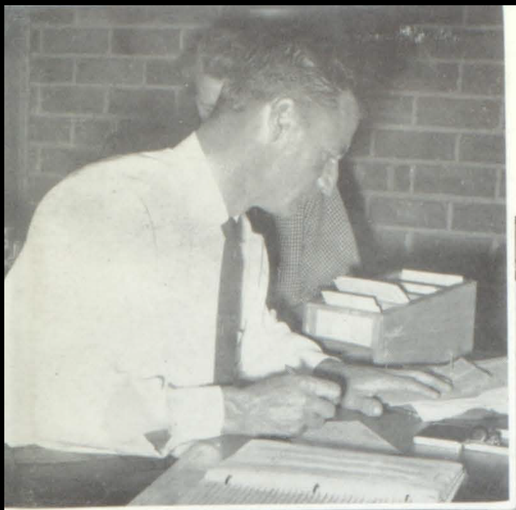
Dedication

To you, Mr. Estes McDoniel, for being Vice-Principal and one of the longest established members of Basic High School, we, the 1959 El Lobo Staff, proudly dedicate this annual.

You have witnessed our school's growth, helping it every step of the way and thus have been an inseparable part of our beloved Basic High.

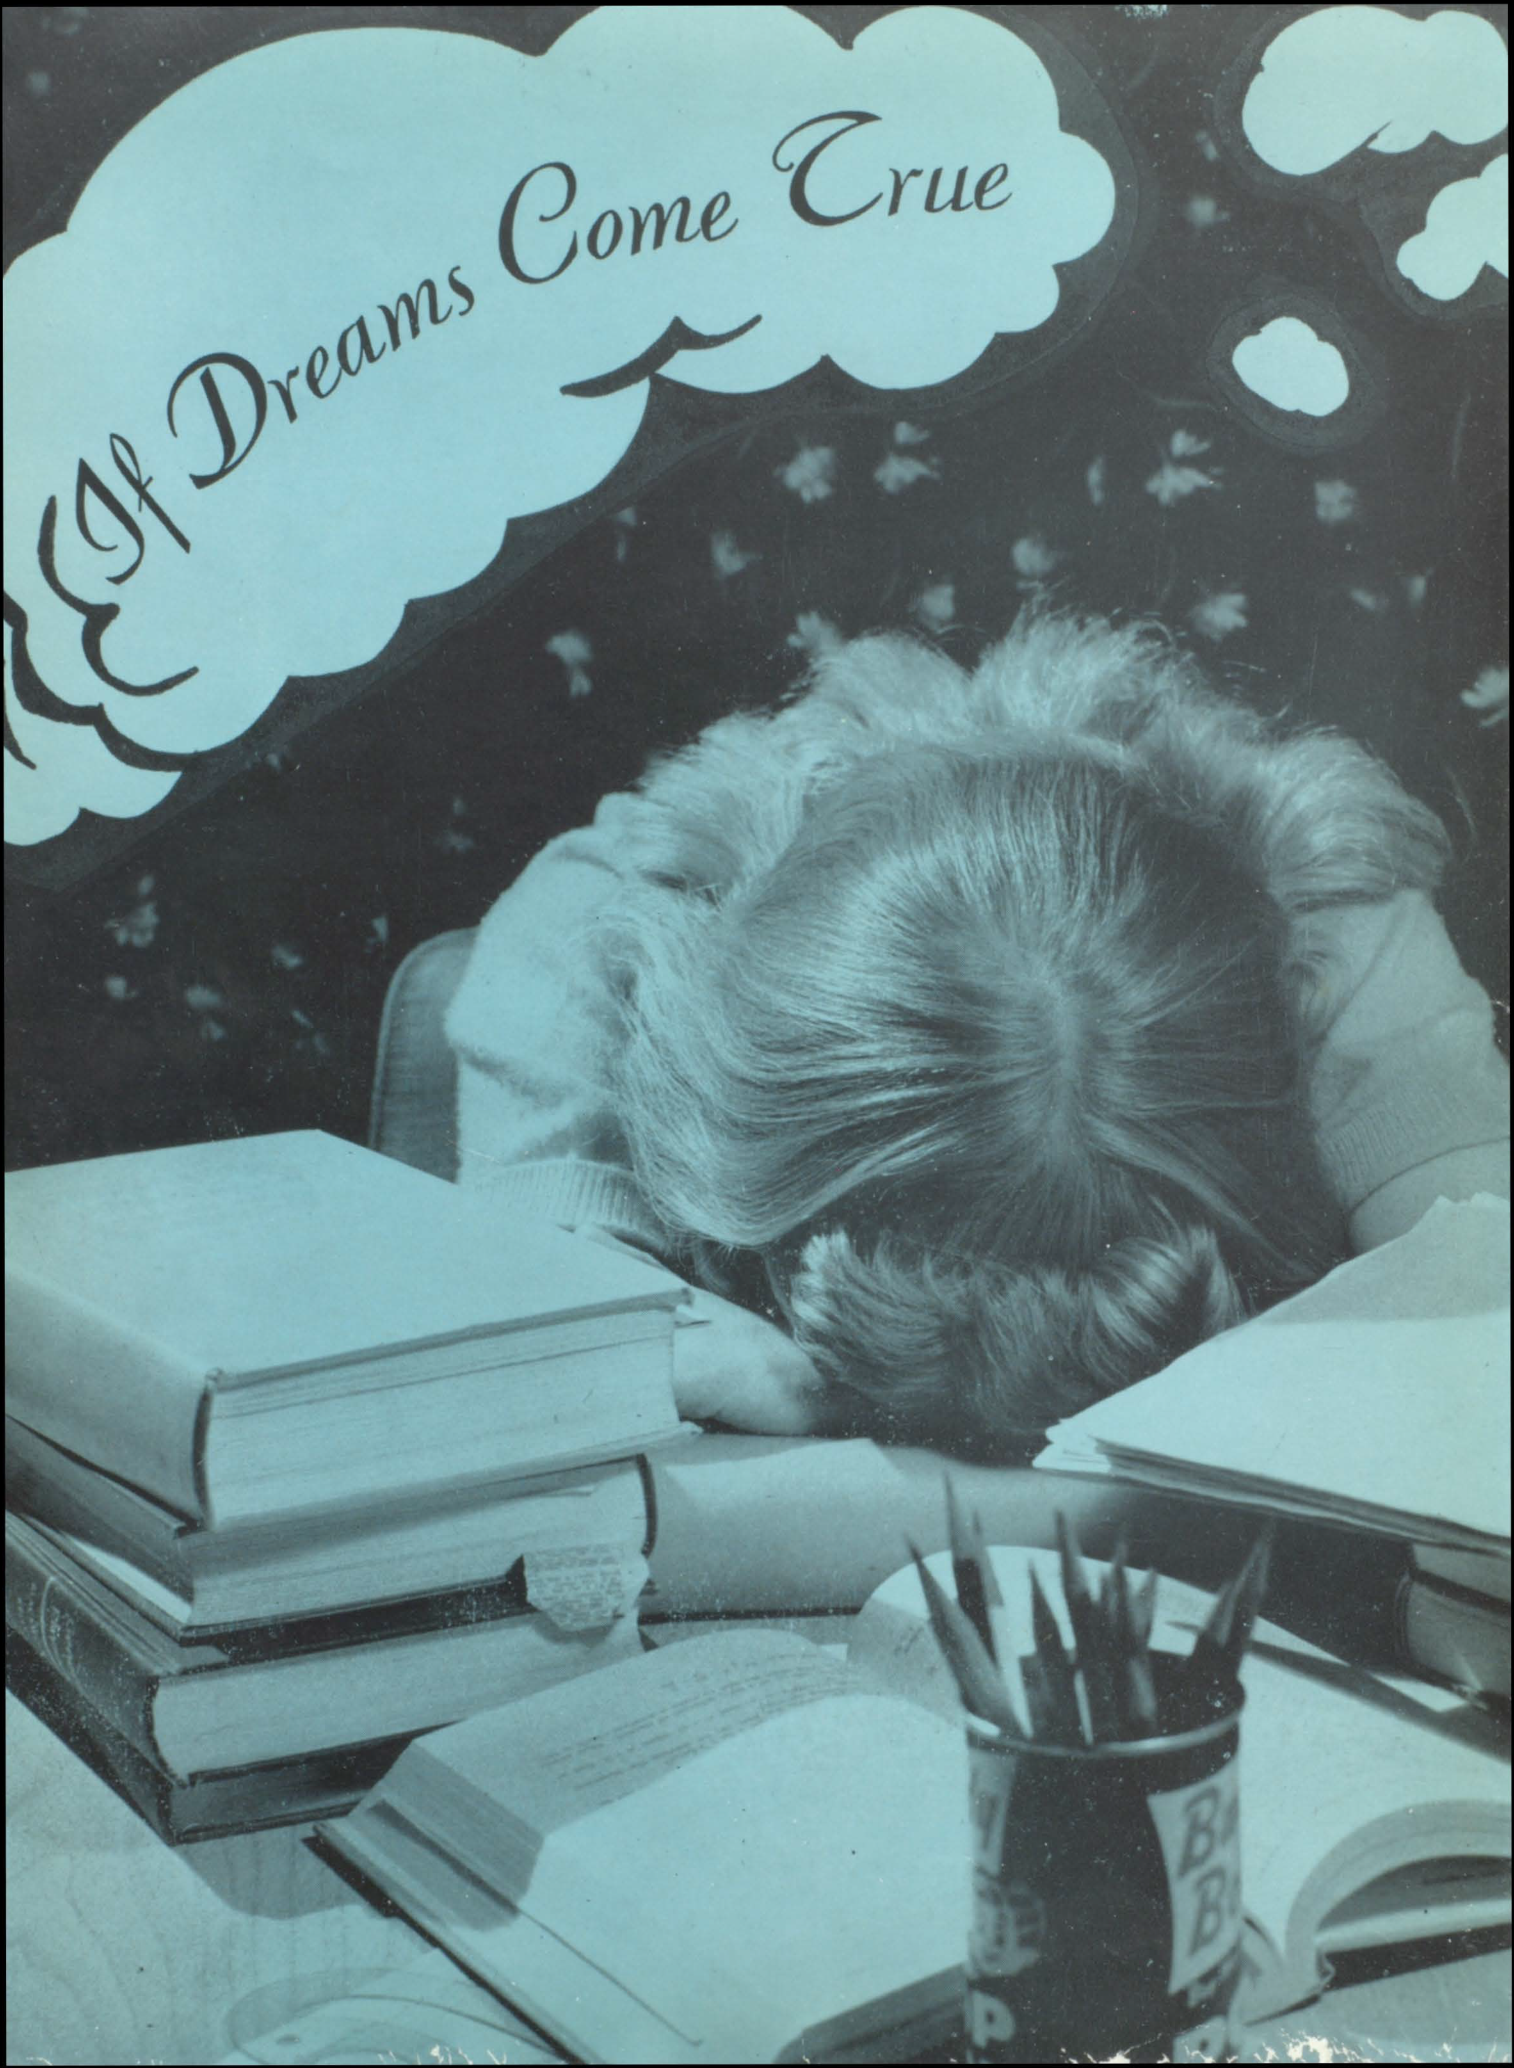
You have been more than just Vice-Principal, you have been our friend through your untiring efforts to help us. We sincerely appreciated this and assure you that you will not be forgotten by those of us fortunate enough to know you.

Basic will always mean more to us for your being identified with it. With real affection and best wishes for the future we inscribe with your name this record of our lives at Basic during 1958-59 as a lasting mark of our deep respect for you.



Mr. Estes McDoniel

If Dreams Come True



Foreword

The annual staff was formed with a high goal and an even bigger dream — to create an annual which each student could truly call his own. We have worked continuously with you foremost in our minds. It is our hope that you enjoy this El Lobo as much as we have enjoyed producing it.

If we have given you a book of memories that you will be proud to show your friends in later years, "Our dream has come true."

Principal's Message

Mr. John Dooley

To some educators, the direction in which educational impetus is being applied today indicates that the classes of 1959 are being graduated into a civilization which is living on borrowed time. This forecast of doom may prove to be true if the emphasis of scientific advance is overwhelmingly directed to material improvements which may be adapted to the hardware of war.

The continuous improvement in the destructive power of bombs and missiles has not brought the world any closer to peace—it has merely multiplied by many million times man's ability to destroy himself.

The colossal failure of such scientific directions has been obvious to mankind for a long time. We have had hopes for peace, but we have never had real faith in its possibility. It has also been obvious that if the human mind can build objects capable of such enormous destruction, surely the power to render such objects impotent and unnecessary must also lie in the mind of man. Yet we have made only sporadic efforts to develop the science of the mind as it is applied to human direction of advances other than material if we are to extend the life line of our civilization.

Perhaps the mind or minds which will take such a leap is here in the Class of 1959.

Vice Principal's Message

To the Class of 1959 . . .

I sincerely wish each of you a successful and happy future.

Basic High School has played a major role in your brief adult experience. You will fully realize how wonderful this period has been, only, after a few years have expired.

This school is the only one with which I care to be associated. I feel as you do, "This is MY school."

It has been my extreme comfort to see you mature into well-adjusted young ladies and gentlemen. You, as seniors, have led the way to make Basic the best high school in this country, and of this you can be justly proud. It is students like you that make my position seem worthwhile. You have attained a goal. In some way I hope I have been helpful.

School Board

It seems to me that the 1958-1959 school year has been an eminently successful year for Basic High School. There have been many outstanding individual, group and team achievements in scholarship, forensics, music, athletics, dramatics, and journalism. Particular congratulations are extended for the inauguration of the enrichment and accelerated study program provided for all students demonstrating a zeal for learning above normal scholarship requirements; the expanded guidance and counseling services program; the continued excellence of Desertaires activities; the formation of the Beta Alpha Omega Cultural Development Club; the state basketball championship; the excellent conduct of students attending the state basketball tournament; the Lobo News, the student council adoption of the four-way test program; the development of student interest in the Future Teachers of America program and the Student Science Fair. The excellent school spirit reflects the joy and satisfaction students find in high level achievements.

To you, the teachers of Basic High, we will forever be indebted for our success in future years. You will be remembered by all your students with the utmost honor and respect. From the days we entered the halls of Basic, until today, as we leave as young men and women, you have been guiding lights in friendship, guidance, and knowledge. Yes, it is to you we owe our future honors.

Seniors

With a definite dream and goal to reach, we the seniors, entered Basic High School. As freshmen we endured the many torments of underclassmen. Our sophomore year was full of fun and hard work as we took another step toward our dreams' fulfillment. Juniors, upperclassmen, how proud we were to choose and display our class rings with "59" embedded in them. Then the last day of school came and with a tinge of joy we realized we were seniors, the leaders of Basic. The dream that was ours soon became a reality as proudly we received our diplomas and stepped forward to face our world as adults with a new dream, a new goal and many cherished memories.

Juniors

The drowsy junior drops into his desk. Soon the wise fool slumbers heavily, the dream of the past year's activities parades through his mind. He sees a vision of his class ring, the junior-senior banquet, the gaiety and laughter of the Junior Carnival, and the climax of every junior year—his Junior Prom. The Revolution, Civil War, and the Gold Rush fall into their places in the fantasy as he dreams of burning the midnight oil writing another theme for Mr. O'Callaghan. He winces at the thought and slumps lower in his desk.

The teacher's words, "This is no place to dream," jar him back to reality and he realizes that he has but one year to make his "dreams come true."

Visions of Julius Ceasar, tarantullas, Mark Anthony and complex sentences continue to haunt the sophomores after final exams. But overshadowing the flowers, insects and geometric figures was their clever assembly and fabulous Reverse, which was truly a "Heaven on Earth."

Their year's activities were headed by Sharon Vincent, first girl class president of Basic High, who did a terrific job. As the year draws to a close, the class of '61 smiles proudly, for their job is well done. At last their dream has come . . . they are "upperclassmen."

The frosh year—a new time, a new joy, with new expectations . . . as Frolic time nears, the "little people" are seen hurrying and scurrying, clattering and chattering loudly as they make plans for their first big production, hoping it will be a success.

The new thrills of pep assemblies, bowing down to SENIORS, football games, joining clubs, and of course, homework, make the year pass quickly. At last the painting of the "B" completes their first step in the fulfillment of their dream.

With a quick snap a picture is taken and a student can expect to have that picture permanently recorded in the newspapers or the annual. These are the students responsible for the pictures to be used in all school publications. It is to them we owe our vote of thanks for the fine job they did.

Visualizing themselves working in the commercial fields soon, these girls met with that common aim in mind. They chose a secretary of the month, gave food baskets to a needy family at Thanksgiving and Christmas, and sold ice cream at lunch time. "Edete, Bibete et Jubilate!" This cry can be heard echoing over the halls of Basic. It is the motto of the Latin Club. The Latin Club has chosen as its name, "Societas Genitas Deis," which means, "Society Descending from the Gods."

They planned numerous activities. Among the most prominent were: a combination banquet and initiation, a Mt. Charleston trip and a Christmas party.

The Latin Club is sure to do its part toward making Basic an even better school.

Pep Band

Besides adding their support to the basketball team for all home games, the Pep Band journeyed to all out-of-town games that were held within the county.

In addition, the snappy group accompanied the team to the Lincoln County "thriller," and also to the state basketball tournament in Reno. In a post-season appearance, the Pep Band provided music for the Lions-Rotary game, a benefit program for the city ambulance fund.

The Pep Band added a lot of sparkle to the games, and a great deal of support to our state championship team.

The Swing-Willies, Basic High School's dance band, play for many and various activities throughout the school year. School dances, such as the Homecoming dance and the Sweetheart Reverse, were provided with dance music by the Swing Willies, and they were on hand to entertain for such functions as P.T.A. meetings, the Industrial Days program and beauty contest, several exchange assemblies, an assembly here at Basic, and the all-school show. They also played for the DeMolay dance, during that group's state convention in Henderson.

Outstanding highlight of the year's activities was the presentation of the second annual "Fantasy in Jazz," an entire evening's program of jazz and "pop" music. Most people in the school and community will agree that this is a pretty "swinging" group.

Boys and Girls State

Each June the dreams of every junior boy and girl come true for a select few. These students are chosen for their leadership, cooperation, sportsmanship, and other personal qualities. At Boys and Girls State these, the youth of America today, the leaders of America tomorrow, learn to recognize, accept, and assume the responsibilities the future.

Cheerleaders

Having a team that's a good sport, win or lose . . . Realizing the student body is behind you all the way . . . Hearing the roof raise at pep assemblies . . . Being acclaimed the best cheerleaders . . .Seeing an ambitious, hard-working team take state . . . Mere dreams for most but for these vivacious girls each one became a reality.

Through the awarding of "Peppy" to the class that cheered the loudest our pep assemblies were more roof-raising. Congratulations, cheerleaders, your untiring efforts have enhanced Basic's school spirit and helped in our dream's fulfillment. Thanks to you, cheerleaders, we are truly, "The Best Little School in the West."

WHAM! BANG! SMACK! HIT THAT LINE! BLOCK! BLOCK! TACKLE! Johnny, Marlow, Dave, let's get going there. Down the field—block for that carrier! O.K. Fellows, back here again. Let's run that play over. You Backs, watch that timing. Hit that ball and hit it hard! Run, run, run, you can't win ball games walking. These are the sounds you hear every fall, from Coach Smith to players. The football season is on and the old pigskin flies while the stadium resounds with hard blocks and tackles. Training, conditioning, timing, plays, it's all a part of that great game . . . FOOTBALL.

Our season was comparatively successful as we won five of nine contests and came very close on two other occasions. Victory was important, but there were other attributes of as much importance. Good sportsmanship, character building, and general fellowship counted too. If we build in these endeavors, there is our victory on the gridiron.

Takes two to tango.

Does it itch, Don?

Coach Robert Lunt

Basketball

The Reno gymnasium is packed to the brim with anxious spectators awaiting the final game of the 1959 state basketball tournaments. This is the all-important game which decides the AA champs —Basic or Reno. Glancing at the spectators, while awaiting the beginning buzzer, the Southern Zone champs smile and their minds drift over the past season . . .

What a record! We've lost only two beginning games, both to Dixie and were they ever close. We practiced hard and long to make our innermost dream come true—this game. Now it's time to prove ourselves. We've got to take state. We have a perfect conference record. Taking advantage of the teamwork that Coach Lunt always stressed, we'll really try hard to make him proud of us. We owe this to him.

The buzzer rings . . . the game begins . . . the Basic Wolves play with all their might. At halftime they lead 30-20 but they know this game is far from being finished. Soon after the fourth quarter begins the score is tied. Basic's outstanding outside shooting and Paul Hornyak's fantastic dribbling has the capacity crowd gasping and cheering despite themselves.

Soon the ending buzzer rings and the victorious Basic Wolves are surrounded by faithful fans. Paul Hornyak is acclaimed the tournament's most valuable player and along with Rick Patton and Kirby Trumbo he makes the all-state team. This sensational finish, a dream's fulfillment, is the perfect conclusion for a team Basic considers tops.

OUR VARSITY CHAMPS

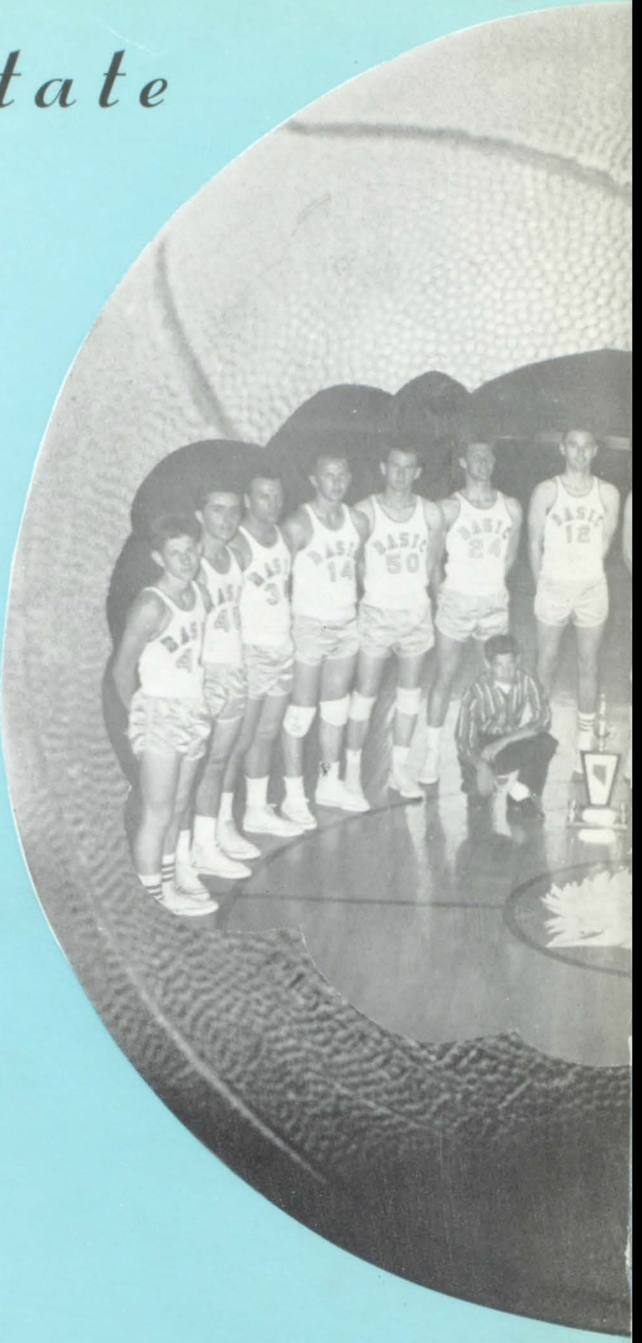
State

Rick

Rick Patton

All-State Center

Selected as the all-state center, Basic's co-captain, Rick Patton, helped keep the team together throughout the season.



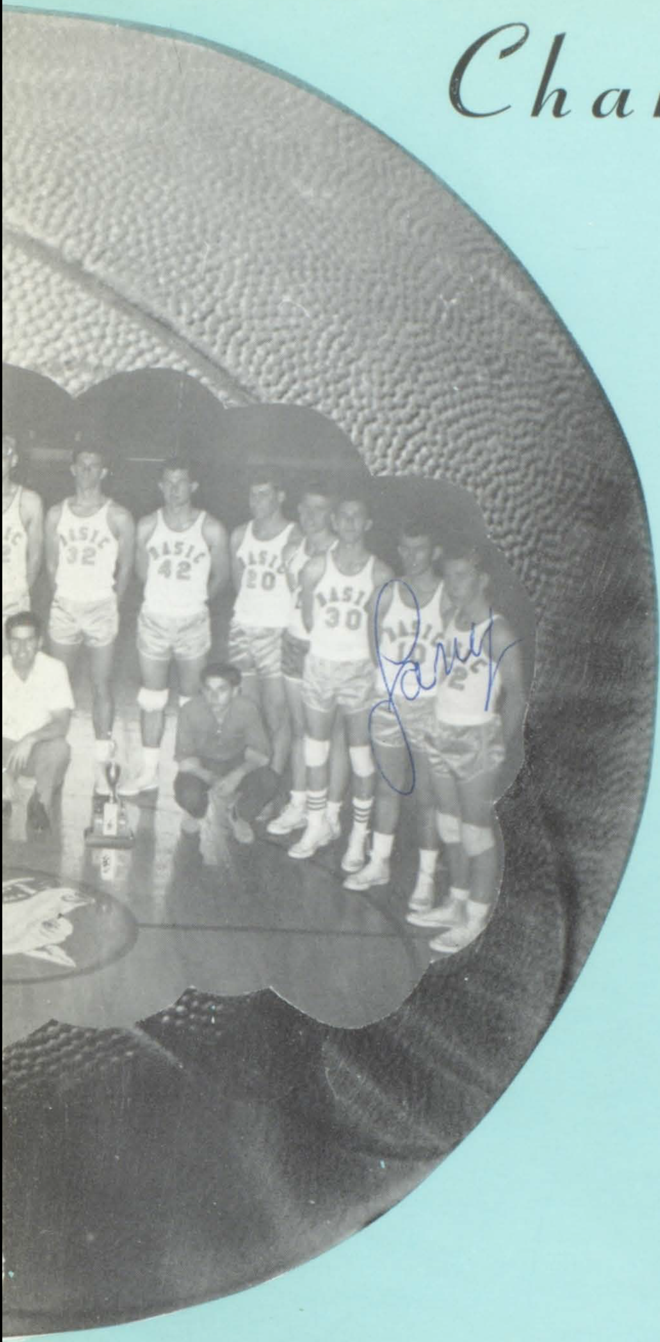
Kirby

Kirby Trumbo

All-State Guard

During the season's play the all-around basketball ability and the aggressive style of play marked Kirby Trumbo as one of Nevada's most outstanding high school ball players.

Champs

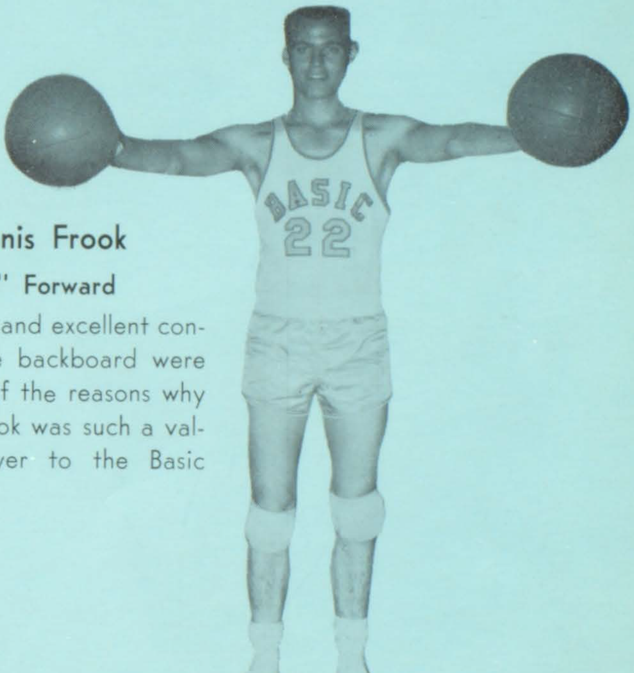


Larry

Wayne Higgason

6-foot Forward

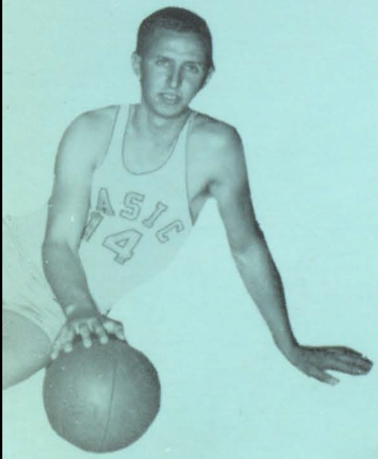
Throughout the 1959 basketball season Wayne Higgason was noted for his speed, consistent floor game and his scoring ability.



Dennis Frook

6'1" Forward

Hard play and excellent control of the backboard were only two of the reasons why Denny Frook was such a valuable player to the Basic Wolves.



Paul Hornyak

All-State Guard

The selection of Paul Hornyak as the "Most Valuable Tournament Player" was an honor he well deserved. Amid amazed spectators his fantastic dribbling ability led the Wolves to their state victory.

J. V. Basketball

The 1958-59 Junior Varsity was one of the best teams to ever represent Basic High School. A great bunch of fellows on the court and off! These hoopsters racked up a fabulous 15-1 record.

Because of their excellent leadership and desire to win, Frank Schreck and Kenyon Benson were chosen as co-captains for the season. But to us they're all stars, and that's the way we'll remember them . . . THE VARSITY OF TOMORROW!

Track

"Okey boys, let's get busy. Run a quick 440 around the track and then do some warming up exercises." The distance men run lap after lap striving for race-winning endurance. Across the field an athlete dashes, leaps, clears the bar and crashes into the sawdust pit. A polevaulter measures for his hand hold on the pole and drags it back to vault again. We can see he's heading for another record and a first place championship for Basic.

To you who formed this book,
With toil, sweat and tears,
And met each new deadline,
With few unspoken fears . . .

To those of you who set a goal,
And shaped it into form;
And wouldn't stop until
At last, this annual was born . . .

My sincere thanks I extend,

A Senior at Graduation

With graduation gown on and diploma in hand
I take one last look at the premises on which I stand.
The school buildings now so familiar to me,
In a matter of time will a mere memory be.
Here I've gained friends, known work, known play.
And somehow gained something through each passing day.
I've cheered at the games, danced at the prom,
Done my math problems—though many were wrong.

My freshman year and the painting of the "B";
I was painted in lipstick, what a sight to see!
My sophomore year and the reverse I'll long recall —
I had so much fun, I'll never forget it all.
Then an upperclassman; we chose our own class ring —
Prom, play, assemblies, what happiness they did bring.
Then I was a senior, a mighty senior, too;
Ball, baccalaureate, graduation, then I was all through.

People are congratulating me each in a special way,
Saying how very proud they are of me this day.
I acknowledge their words yet somehow deep in my heart
I'm not at all anxious from Basic High to part.
I've been looking forward so long for this day;
Now that it's really come how I want to stay.
I look around me and I breathe a deep sigh,
To my teachers, classmates, I bid a final "Good-bye."
As an adult, I take the place awaiting me —
I'll keep Basic High always a fond memory.

Dear Phil,

I really don't know what to say because I feel rather stupid & out of place.

I'm sorry that Fred told you about me not having a date for the Senior Ball, because I know you must have felt terrible about it. I had fun tho...

By the way, you owe me a quarter.

Phil, I want to wish you the very best of everything that is good. Take good care of yourself & of Toni & be happy. Toni is a wonderful girl & we were really good friends in drill.

Love ya,
Betty Jean

Well we've made it, my friend and your troops. Why do you drink or smoke? Why do you smoke or drink? Why do you fool around so much? It must be habit forming. Lets have a lot of fun with the time we have left. Lots of luck Phil.
